A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

1890 The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.

1892 The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.

1896 Club was re-named "Braves", and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park - 14th and Yesler).

1903 The Pacific Coast League was formed, and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (The Braves were now in the Pacific National League and folded after one year.).

1906-17 Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.

1919 Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (The extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).

1937 Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Co.).

1938 On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson began his rookie season and posted a 25-7 record.

1939-41 The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.

1955 Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposition for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and '64).

1960 Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox triple-A affiliate.

1966-68 The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship.

1967 Public approval was given for funds needed to built a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).

1969 The Seattle Pilots came into existence and began play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500 and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.

1970 On March 31, financial difficulties forced the Pilots to move to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.

1972-76 Seattle fielded a team in the Class-A Northwest League.

1977 On April 6, Major League baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The M's starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.

THE FRONT OFFICE

THE FRONT OFFICE

JEFF SMULYAN

Chairman

Under Jeff Smulyan's ownership, interest in the Seattle Mariners has been rejuvenated throughout the Pacific Northwest. Since taking control of the Mariners on October 5, 1989, Smulyan has demonstrated a tireless commitment to making baseball succeed in the Northwest.

The fan response to this effort last year included a franchise record attendance (1,509,727), a 40% increase in television ratings and an all-time high in season ticket accounts. In addition, the M's image and the public's perception of the club continues to move in a positive direction.

Smulyan, 43, is the principal owner of Seattle Baseball, Limited Partnership, which also includes Smulyan's Emmis Broadcasting Corporation, Morgan Stanley & Company investment bank of New York and Indianapolis developer Michael Browning. Seattle Baseball, L.P. purchased the Mariners from George Argyros following the 1989 season.

Besides the Mariners, Smulyan is also Chairman of the Board of Indianapolis-based Emmis Broadcasting, the largest privately owned radio broadcasting corporation in the United States. Smulyan formed and became principal shareholder of Emmis in 1980, after running WNTS radio in Indianapolis and KCRO radio in Omaha.

In 1987-89, Emmis was selected one of the Inc. 500 fastest growing corporations in America. Emmis was also voted "Most Respected Radio Company" in 1988-89 by a poll of the industry's chief executive officers.

At the time of the Mariners' purchase, Emmis owned 11 radio stations across the country, including: WENS, Indianapolis (purchased in 1980); WLOL, Minneapolis (1983); KSHE, St. Louis (1984); KPWR, Los Angeles (1984); WQHT and WFAN, New York (1986); WAVA, Washington, DC (1986); KXXX, San Francisco (1988); WKQX, Chicago (1988); WJIB, Boston (1988); and KKHT, Houston (1988). As part of the plan to purchase the Mariners, Emmis sold its San Francisco, Houston and Minneapolis stations. Emmis also owns 50% of Duncan's American Radio, a leading radio industry publication and Indianapolis Monthly Magazine.

Smulyan has recently served on the Board of Directors for the National Association of Broadcasters and the Radio Advertising Bureau. He is also a member of the American, Indiana and Federal Communications Bar Associations. Smulyan was presented the Tree of Life Award in 1990 by the Jewish National Fund. He has also been awarded the Indianapolis Business Journal's Entrepreneur of the Year in 1986 and Radio President of the Year in 1988.

In 1969, Smulyan was senior class president and graduated cum laude from the University of Southern California with an A.B. in History and Telecommunications. Three years later, he earned a Juris Doctor degree from the USC School of Law. In law school, he was note and comment editor of the USC Law Review.

Smulyan has residences in Seattle and Indianapolis. He has a daughter, Cari (10), and a son, Bradley (8).

Following his graduation, he signed his first professional contract with the Milwaukee Braves' organization in 1963 and made his Major League debut with Milwaukee later that same season.

He spent nearly five years with the Braves, moving with the club to Atlanta in 1966, before he was traded to Cincinnati in 1968. While with Cincinnati, he played in the 1970 NLCS sweep of Pittsburgh and the World Series loss to Baltimore.

Following his retirement in 1971, he entered private business, but came back to baseball in 1974-75 as a Reds' TV broadcaster. He returned to his alma mater as a head baseball coach, posting the second-best winning percentage in Seminole history (170-57, .749) from 1975-78.

COMSTOCK'S TRAVELS

Keith Comstock has had one of the more interesting tours of professional baseball around the world. Last year at age 34, Comstock spent his first full season in the Majors and had a career year. However, his career hasn't always been so stable. During his 15 years in professional baseball, Comstock has been released ten times in five different countries, including Japan, Mexico, Venezuela, Canada and the United States. In the U.S., he has been let go by the California, Detroit, Minnesota, San Diego (twice) and San Francisco organizations. The Giants also traded him once.

SEATTLE MARINERS
1990 TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

THE RECORD — Jim Lefebvre's Mariners finished 1990 with the second best record in Seattle history (77-85) and a four-game improvement over their final 1989 record (73-89) . . . only the 1987 M's with a 78-84 record posted more wins in a season . . . in both years under Lefebvre, the M's have improved on their won total from the previous year, a Seattle first.

ROAD RECORD — the M's 39 road wins set a new club record, breaking the1987 mark (38-43) . . . Seattle was 39-42 on the road this year . . . the M's posted a .500 mark or better on six straight trips from April 19-July 26.

THE .500 MARK — Seattle was at the .500 mark on August 18 with a 60-60 mark, the latest the M's have ever been at .500 in a season . . . the previous was Aug. 17, 1982 (59-59) . . . the 1990 M's spent 56 days of the season at or above .500 . . . the M's high-water mark was five games over .500 (last on August 5 with a 57-52 mark).

ATTENDANCE — the M's set a club record by drawing 1,509,727 fans to the Kingdome in 1990, shattering the old mark of 1,338,511 set in 1977 . . . included in the 1990 attendance was the first two sellouts in Mariners history: Opening Night, April 13 vs. Oakland (54,597); and Fan Appreciation Night, September 21 vs. Chicago (55,614) . . . the September 21 crowd was the third largest regular season crowd in Seattle history.
ROAD ATTENDANCE — for the fifth consecutive season, Seattle set a club record for road attendance with 2,193,421 fans, breaking last year's 1,943,845.

PITCHING — the M's 1990 staff posted several club records, including lowest ERA with a 3.69 mark (breaking 1982 mark of 3.88); fewest runs allowed, 680 (breaking 712 set in 1982); most strikeouts with 1064 (old was 1002 in 1982); and lowest batting average against, .243 (old was .256 in 1988) . . . the 1990 M's staff led the AL in strikeouts, was second in BA against and third in ERA, complete games (21) and hits allowed (1319).

THE STARTERS — M's starters held their opponents to a .239 average, the lowest in the Majors . . . M's starters also led the AL in innings (1048.1), fewest hits (939), strikeouts (775) and were third in AL with a 3.67 ERA . . . from July 8 through September 1, M's starters pitched into the seventh inning in 46 of the 50 games . . . in those games, the starters averaged 7.1 innings and had a combined ERA of 2.83 (115er in 366.1ip) . . . during that span, however, the team posted just a 23-27 record.

THE GRIFFEYS — Ken Griffey, who signed with the M's on August 29 after his release from the Reds on August 18, and Ken Griffey Jr. became the first father-son combination to play in the Major Leagues on the same team on August 31 vs. Kansas City . . . Sr., who started in left field and batted second, singled to center in his first at bat off Storm Davis and Jr., who started in center field and batted third, followed with a single to right . . . on September 14 at California, the two hit back-to-back home runs off Kirk McCaskill . . . the Griffeys were in the lineup together on 15 different occasions (M's went 7-8) . . . in the 15 games, Sr. hit safely in 12 games: .400 (24x60) with 3 home runs and 16 RBI . . . Jr. hit in 14 of the 15 games: .312 (19x61) with 3 home runs and 11 RBI . . . only one other father-son combo has ever played professional team sports together: Gordie Howe played with sons Marty and Mark on the NHL's Hartford Whalers.

TWO .300 HITTERS — for the first time in a full season, the M's placed two hitters in the top ten in average. Edgar Martinez led the club with a .302 mark (sixth in AL) and Ken Griffey Jr. finished seventh in the circuit with an even .300 mark.

ALL-STARS — for the first time in Seattle history, a Mariner was elected to the starting lineup of the AL All-Star team in 1990 . . . Ken Griffey Jr. received 2,159,700 votes, second most in AL behind Jose Canseco . . . the vote total shattered the previous M's mark held by Julio Cruz in 1980 (496,702 votes) . . . Randy Johnson was also named to the All-Star squad, marking just the second time the M's had two All-Star representatives.

DESIGNATED HITTERS — The M's DH's were the most productive in the AL, driving in a league-high 99 runs . . . M's were second with 23 home runs and sixth with a .250 average . . . Alvin Davis led the M's with a .272-12-52 mark in 87 games as a DH with Jeffrey Leonard hitting .245-7-34 in 48 DH appearances.

INJURIES — Seattle used the disabled list a Seattle record 15 times during the season . . . the following is a list of the disabled players and the number of games missed while on DL: ALVIN DAVIS (12), SCOTT BANKHEAD (twice - 29 starts), MIKE SCHOOLER (36), JAY BUHNER (twice - 108), DAVID VALLE (29), PETE O'BRIEN (44), OMAR VIZQUEL (32), TRACY JONES (51), MIKE BRUMLEY (31), RUSS SWAN (49), CLINT ZAVARAS, MARIO DIAZ, MICKEY BRANTLEY.

Doug Rader, Tor.	Mike Kekich, Sea.	8/24/77
Ron Kittle, Chi.	Matt Young, Sea.	9/13/85
Gary Matthews, Sea.	Al Nipper, Bos.	7/12/87

During that same period, 21 players have hit a total of 30 home runs into the third deck in right field. There are four players that have accomplished the feat more than once: Alvin Davis (five times), Lloyd Moseby (four times), Ken Phelps (two times) and Bruce Bochte (two times). Kevin Maas of the New York Yankees is the last player to hit one into the third deck (Aug. 7, 1990, off Erik Hanson).

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Average — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Won-Lost Percentage — Divide the number of victories by the total number of games played. Example: 22 wins and 18 losses produce a winning percentage of .550.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

MAJOR LEAGUE WAIVERS

The "trading deadline" is July 31. Waivers are required for any inter- or intra-Major League assignment during the period beginning August 1 and ending at 5 pm ET the day after the end of the season. During the other ten months of the year no waivers are needed.

It will be easier to compute which players need waivers before they may be optioned: if three years (less one for each previously spent on option) have elapsed since the player actually reported to the Major Leagues for the first time, waivers are required. The date of actual physical reporting will be used as the benchmark instead of the date the player was first placed on a club's 40-man roster.

The procedure for outright assignments to the National Association remains unchanged from the 31st day of each season until August 31; during this period, ordinary waivers are required. However, from September 1 until the 30th day of the following season, special waivers are required:

The club must tender a special waiver request specifying that waivers are requested for the purpose of outright assignment to the National Association. The claiming period, as with other waivers, is three business days, and an assignment pursuant to special waivers must be completed by 2 pm ET the seventh day after the waivers were secured.

Seventy-two-hour waivers, secured on players recalled not to report, continue unaffected except insofar as they no longer suffice for an outright assignment to the National Association during those times in the year when special waivers are required.

SPRING TRAINING NO-HITTER

The only no-hitter in Mariners spring training history took place in 1984. On March 14, Mark Langston (4 IP), Bob Babcock (2 IP), Lee Guetterman (2 IP) and Dave Beard (1 IP) held the Oakland Athletics hitless in a 14-0 romp at Tempe Diablo Stadium.

BROADCASTERS

DAVE NIEHAUS has been a Mariners broadcaster since the club's inception into the American League in 1977. During his 14 seasons behind the microphone for the M's, he has missed only four games (one in 1982 and three in '88, all to attend graduation ceremonies for his children). Entering the 1991 season, he has witnessed 2210 of the 2214 games played by the Mariners. He is recognized as one of the best and most exciting broadcasters in the game of baseball (rated in the top four in Major League baseball in a 1986 SPORT Magazine Poll), and he has become instantly identified with Mariners baseball wherever he goes. His expressions like "My Oh My" and "It will fly away" (for home runs) have become familiar throughout the Northwest.

Dave was born and raised in Princeton, Indiana, and is a graduate of Indiana University, where he worked for the campus radio station. He then went to work for the Armed Forces radio and TV service, calling the action for Los Angeles Dodgers games before moving to New York to handle Yankees baseball as well as basketball and hockey from Madison Square Garden. After leaving the Armed Forces Network, he returned to Los Angeles to broadcast the Dodgers, Rams and Lakers. From 1969-76, he teamed with Dick Enberg and Don Drysdale to call the action for the California Angels on KMPC Radio. Dave also broadcasted UCLA football and basketball (1973-76). He resides in Bellevue with his wife Marilyn. They have three children (Andy, Matt and Greta).

RICK RIZZS (pronounced RIZ) has handled the play-by-play with Dave Niehaus on radio and television since 1983. Rizzs, 36, broadcast the Columbus (Ohio) Clippers of the International League (AAA) and Ohio State football for two seasons on WBNS Radio, where he also served as sports director. He is a 1975 graduate of Southern Illinois Univesity in Carbondale. From 1975-80, Rick was the play-by-play announcer at the AA level with the Alexandria Aces, Amarillo Gold Sox and Memphis Chicks. He was named the Ohio "Sportscaster of the Year" in 1981 by the Ohio Sportscasters Association. During the off-season, Rick is involved with the M's Speakers Bureau and works closely with the local Cystic Fibrosis chapter and their "65 Roses" Club. He resides in Issaquah with his wife Kristi.

JOE SIMPSON begins his fifth season as the color commentator for all Mariners telecasts in 1991. "Gentleman Joe" spent the majority of his big league career as a Mariners outfielder (1979-82), but also saw action with the Los Angeles Dodgers and Kansas City Royals.

After a sparkling collegiate career at the University of Oklahoma, where he earned All-America honors his senior year, Simpson was taken by the Dodgers in the third round of the 1973 June draft.

In his first season with Seattle, Simpson played in 120 games and batted .283. He hit a combined .252 in four seasons with the M's and concluded his major league career with Kansas City in 1983.

In 1985 he served as a commentator for Oklahoma City (AAA) of the American Association. In 1986, Simpson covered a variety of games, including the NCAA Regional Tournament in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

Joe currently resides in Elkhorn, NE, with his wife Kathy and children Meg and Gabe.

KEVIN CREMIN begins his ninth season as producer-engineer for all Mariners radio broadcasts in 1991. He is responsible for the technical aspects of each broadcast, as well as relaying udated game information to Dave Niehaus and Rick Rizzs.

The Tulsa, OK native attended the University of Oklahoma and studied journalism. After spending eight years in the circulation department of the Tulsa World & Tribune, Cremin joined the Mariners Radio Network on a full-time basis in 1983. He is currently the senior engineer in the American League, having worked 1295 consecutive broadcasts as he enters the 1991 season. He resides in Seattle with wife Margaret and daughters Colleen and Kate.
